WINSTON CHU VS. THE WHIMSIES

ABOUT THE BOOK

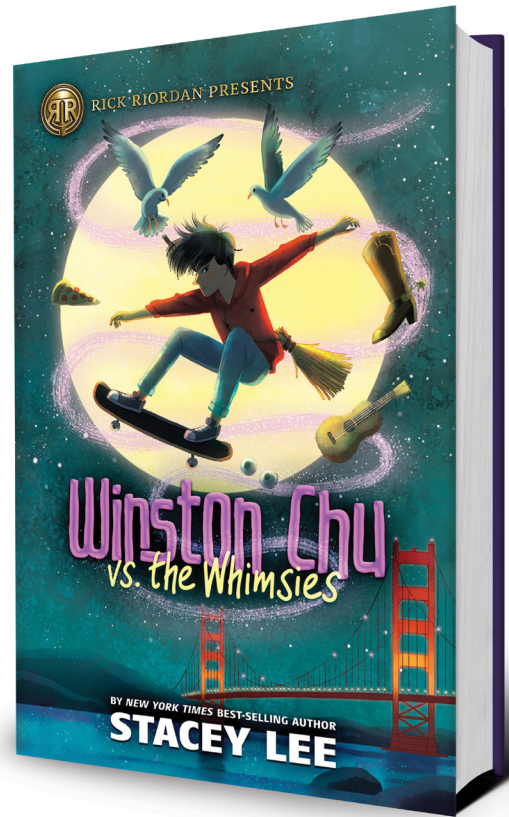

Best-selling author Rick Riordan presents best-selling author Stacey Lee's modern reimagining of a classic Chinese folktale—replete with magic, boba, and lots of trash talking.

Twelve-year-old Winston Chu is supposed to learn impulse control at the cooking academy his mom enrolled him in. But learning to think before he acts won't happen overnight.

While skateboarding home with a pie in hand, Winston inadvertently stops a robbery at Mr. Pang's Whimsies, an oddities shop in Chinatown. As a reward, Mr. Pang invites Winston to choose any item in the store. But the strange old man warns Winston to browse carefully, for the first thing Winston touches will be the thing he gets. Before Winston can decide, a magpie flies under a shelf, and he impulsively grabs an old broom to sweep it out.

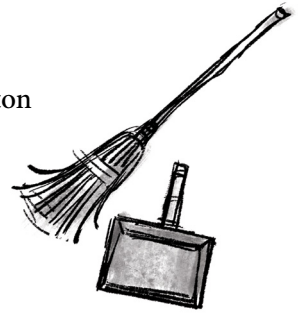

Mr. Pang hands him the broom, along with a dustpan. "Two for one. Congratulations." Deflated, Winston returns home, determined to put the broom incident behind him. Or at least in the closet. But when some of his most beloved possessions go missing, all Winston can think about are the broom and dustpan. Did they somehow take his stuff? And what—or who—will they dispose of next?

It's time to break into Mr. Pang's Whimsies, where clearly there's more going on than meets the far-seeing eyeball. It's time to fight magic with magic. And this time, Winston better have a plan.

EXTEND THE LEARNING & MAKE CONNECTIONS

1. As an introductory activity, read “12 of the Most Fascinating Good Luck Charms from Around the World” (www.rd.com/list/good-luck-charms). Discussion questions: What do you think of these different good luck charms? Have you ever used any of them? Do you do anything to encourage good luck: say a mantra, follow a routine, or carry a charm?
2. To build background knowledge and help students visualize San Francisco, have them explore this “Welcome to San Francisco” guide (www.sftravel.com). Taking it further: Break students into groups and assign different topics on this website to each group like “Things to Do,” “Eat & Drink,” “Golden Gate Bridge,” “Alcatraz,” etc. Have each group create a slide deck highlighting what they learned about their topic. Jigsaw activity: Have a representative from each topic form a new group with students who all read something different. Each representative will take on the role of an ambassador to share what they learned with other ambassadors.
3. Have students create a welcome guide to their hometown. They can build a website using Google Sites, Wix, or Weebly. Alternatively, they can create it using Google Slides, Canva, or on paper. In this guide, students should include similar topics like the “Welcome to San Francisco” guide: “Things to Do,” “Where to Eat,” “Where to Stay,” (www.sftravel.com) etc.
4. Watch these short videos to learn about the Cloud Weaver and Cowherd: Miscellaneous Myths: The Cowherd And The Weaver Girl (www.youtube.com/watch?v=NphDVU1rmRw) and The Myth of the Original Star-Crossed Lovers (www.youtube.com/watch?v=s_TGkDcjBqI).
5. Watch this short video to learn about qi: What Is Qi? A Simple Explanation (www.youtube.com/watch?v=gtjZ1E8WdA0).
6. Create a timeline of important events from this novel. For each event on the timeline, have students write a justification for their choices.
